

ABUS Monobloc 92

Tootekirjeldus

The ABUS 92 Monoblock shutter padlocks have a solid brass body encased in hardened steel jacket and a through hardened steel alloy shackle which rotates when attacked. 5 Pin precision cylinder with anti-pick mushroom pins and rustfree components.

A hardened steel pin protects the narrow side of the lock against sawing and the deadlock mechanism requires a key to lock.

NanoProtect Chrome Plating, Hardened steel & through hardened steel alloy shackles get the most effective protection available, where smallest nano particles close the smallest gaps found in the normal chrome plating making rusty shackles a thing of the past

1,000 hours salt bath test, the equivalent of 40 years in a harsh environment proves the durability of the new NanoProtect process.
